FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

DesignWrite, LLC Response to Press Inquiries Concerning Letter from Senator Charles Grassley

PRINCETON, NJ, December 15, 2008 -- DesignWrite has at all times complied with all laws, regulations, and guidelines that pertain to our business, and we will continue to do so.

DesignWrite has not, and will not, participate in the publication of any material in which it does not have complete confidence in the scientific validity of the content, based upon the best available data. Authors exercise complete editorial control over the scientific and medical content, and assure that facts and data presented are accurate and medically sound. All articles are subject to a rigorous peer-review process by experts who are chosen independently by each journal. DesignWrite is a member of ISMPP (International Society of Medical Publication Professionals) and we pride ourselves on staying abreast of the latest developments in our field.

DesignWrite remains dedicated to improving patient care by providing opportunities to share research, knowledge, and clinical practice skills. We are committed to doing so with accuracy and efficiency, while maintaining complete integrity for the medical and scientific validity of our work. We look forward to addressing with Senator Grassley and the Senate Finance Committee the issues raised in his letter to us.
